

Amendments to the Specification

Please replace paragraph [0039] beginning on page 15 of the Specification with the paragraph below:

The process before wearing is to form the garment into a relatively natural shape by means of the preliminary deformation, expand the garment by means of the solid deformation, shrink the garment to achieve a size which is more natural than that of before wearing, and apply the garment to the human model. This processing ~~is a model~~ models a process in which a garment, which is expanded by putting a torso and arm therethrough when wearing the knit garment, is caused to shrink to fit with the human body.
